Great gifts that do good.

Bead and jewelry artisan Ila from Ghana.

Fernando Cano and Lisseth Hualla, scarf weavers from Peru.

Dreams are universal.

Opportunity
is not.

Every purchase from the Kiva Store supports artisan businesses and supports Kiva's work to expand financial access to underserved communities.

When Kiva began in 2005, we had a simple goal: to connect borrowers who need small amounts of capital to improve their lives, with lenders who want to help.

More than a decade later, we've seen the incredible power and impact of this model brought to life by the 1.8 million Kiva lenders who have made more than $1.2 billion in small loans possible around the world.

With as little as a $25 loan, you can help a student get an education, an entrepreneur start a business, or a farmer increase yields. You can also help artisans improve the lives of their families, while preserving their cultural traditions.

For years we've heard from Kiva lenders who wanted to purchase some of the beautiful goods made by the artisan borrowers they supported on Kiva. We're elated that this is now possible through the Kiva Store.

Every artisan gift pictured in this catalog and sold on the Kiva Store was handcrafted by a Kiva borrower.

Every purchase from the Kiva Store supports artisan businesses and supports Kiva's work to expand financial access to underserved communities.

Happy holidays from Kiva!
